JANUARY PROJECT HIGHLIGHT

Window replacement was recently completed to the Fulton County Museum located in Gloversville, New York. The windows were installed by Kingsboro Lumber located in Gloversville, New York.

Twenty five Series 6125 Aluminum Project-out windows, in Hartford Green, were used in the project.

The Fulton County Museum is located on the original site of the 1831 Kingsboro Academy and is in the Historic District of Old Kingsborough, now a part of Gloversville. The Fulton County Historical Society purchased the property in 1972 and moved all of its exhibits and artifacts to the former site of the Kingsboro Elementary School.
